O. M. JAMES.

The card of Mr. Ollie M. James, stating that he is not a candidate for congress, will be a surprise to his many friends throughout the district, and a keen disappointment to many, while he had made no public formal announcement of his candidacy, it had been generally understood that he would make the race. For the past two years he has been the most commanding personage in First district politics, and he rose to that enviable position through or by the prestige of no commanding official position. He was in all truth an original free silver man, and when that great question became the issue of issues, he rapidly went to the front as the leader of the regenerated Democracy of the district. His ability and charm as a speaker, his force as a debater, his strong personality and other superb qualities as a leader enabled him to maintain easily his position against any of the later contestants for the first laurels as a champion of the great cause. In recognition of this fact he was made chairman of the Kentucky delegation—a delegation of giants—at the great Chicago convention, and served in that capacity with such marked distinction that his reputation was extended beyond the borders of his own state. He was then solicited to be come a candidate for congress, but he was young and had not espoused the cause for personal aggrandizement. Through his adroitness as a leader, and power as a speaker the success of the nominee for congress two years ago was largely achieved. In as much as Mr. Wheeler stated that he had no desire for a congressional career, Mr. James' friends looked forward to '98. Contrary to expectation Mr. Wheeler has developed some desires that had not matured just after Ben Keys treaded so closely upon his heels two years ago, and his plea for endorsement gives him strength he otherwise would not have, and a fight between him and James would have been a warm one, with chances about equal. Out of these campaigns frequently grow discord that tell to the disadvantage of the party in the final election, and as the approaching election promises to find our opponents united, Mr. James prefers to sacrifice his own ambition rather than jeopardize the success of the party, and with that loyalty to party that has always characterized his course, he declines to enter the contest, feeling, as he expresses it, that "the cause is greater than any man." This course of his will, we believe, be correctly weighed and appreciated by the loyal Democrats of the district.

Decoration Day.

The decoration day programme as published in THE PRESS was observed by Crittenden Post G. A. R. and the citizens in general Saturday. The graves of the dead soldiers were covered with beautiful flowers, and patriotic speeches made, and melodies sung. They were touching ceremonies, and the living comrades of those who are tenting on fames eternal camping grounds entered into them with a zest that shows how tenderly they nourish memories of the dead.

Mrs. Travis Dead.

The wife of Mr. Joe Travis, of Piney, died Saturday night, and many friends attended the funeral which took place Sunday afternoon. Mrs. Travis was an excellent Christian lady, and had a host of friends who sincerely mourn her death.

SANTIAGO IS BOMBARDED.

The Guns Silenced And A Curiser Of The Enemy Sunk.

The Situation Begins To Grow Interesting Again.

WASHINGTON, June 1.—Special to THE PRESS.—Official reports from Cape Hayien say Schley's fleet attacked fortifications at Santiago yesterday afternoon, firing 100 shots. Four small ships led the iron clad in the bombardment. Three of the forts including Morro Castle were silenced. The Spanish iron clad in the bay opened heavy fire on Schley's cruisers, injuring one converted ship, but killing no men. Schley, having silenced the forts, retired.

RICHEST PRIZE OF THE WAR.

KEY WEST, June 1.—It is reported that Captain Sigsbee, of the St. Paul captured the Spanish cruiser Alfonso XIII off Cuban coast Monday night, after an hours fight. One of our gunboats supported the St. Paul. This is the best prize of the war.

TEXAS SINKS A CRUISER.

NEW YORK, June 1.—(Special to THE PRESS.)—A London bulletin says the Texas went into Santiago bay and sank a Spanish cruiser during the engagement.

ORDERED TO SEIZE HAWAII.

WASHINGTON, June 1.—It is stated on good authority that the Charleston orders to seize Hawaii as a coaling station on her arrival there.

BANK OF SPAIN TOTTERING.

NEW YORK, June 1.—(Special to THE PRESS.)—A cablegram from Madrid says the bank of Spain is tottering and Spain may have to stop the war for lack of funds.

MAY BE ANOTHER CALL.

WASHINGTON, May 30.—It is probable that a third call for volunteers will shortly be made. The contemplated occupancy of Porto Rico, Cuba, and the Philippines make more men necessary. The department's figures are 125,000 troops for Cuba; 30,000 for Porto Rico, 60,000 for Philippines and 100,000 for home defense and emergencies.

COLORED VOLUNTEERS CUT OFF.

FRANKFORT, May 30.—Gov. Bradley this afternoon received orders from Secretary Alger to recruit three Kentucky regiments raising the companies from 84 to 106 men each to the company.

This allows only one additional regiment from the State, and cuts off the colored regiment.

A PROTRACTED CAMPAIGN EXPECTED.

TAMPA, May 31.—That the war department expects a protracted campaign is evident by the immense amount of commissary supplies that have been received here. Rations for an army of 70,000 men for three months are now stored in the government warehouse or await unloading while hundreds of car loads more are expected.

Invasion to Begin Today.

WASHINGTON, May 31.—Orders have been issued for the army to move. Gen. Miles is at Tampa inspecting the troops, and the forward movement will begin not later than Thursday. Porto Rico and Santiago will be the first objective points, and then will follow the invasion of Cuba by overwhelming forces. Gen. Shafter will conduct the first invading force.

Supplies Landed in Cuba.

KEY WEST, May 31.—The steamer Florida returned here this morning having successfully landed an expedition on the island, 25 miles east of Havana. The expedition consisted of 432 men, with a pack train and large quantities of ammunition. The expedition is under an insurgent leader. About 300 of the men are Cubans and the rest Americans. The Cubans were in waiting for the party, and welcomed it with a brass band.

No Cadiz Fleet to Talk of.

WASHINGTON, May 31.—The much talked of Cadiz fleet causes no apprehension here. This much vaunted fleet is practically a myth. The naval officers, through private means, have satisfied themselves that it exists only on paper. Its offensive power is illusory.

Try Their Torpedo Boats.

PORT ANTONIO, May 31.—The Spaniards sent two of their torpedo boats out from Santiago to attack the American ships Monday night. The search lights from the Texas discovered them, and she turned her rapid fire guns upon the prowlers and they ran in.

SANTIAGO AS A BASE.

WASHINGTON, May 31.—While there continues to be entire official reticence as to the exact points of invasion, the consensus of opinion, drawn from the most intelligent sources, is that the main field of Cuba, constituting the province of Santiago, with Santiago as its capital, and Porto Rico will be among the objective points. It is admirably situated as a base of operation. The terminus of a railroad and in the midst of the region controlled by the insurgents.

SAMPSON GOES TO SANTIAGO.

WASHINGTON, May 31.—Sampson has sailed for Santiago. He sailed from Key West at daybreak yesterday and will be with Schley tomorrow. By the time they have levelled the fortifications the 15,000 troops which have been embarked will be off Santiago. After the accomplishment of the Santiago task Sampson will sail to Porto Rico to pave the way for the invasion there.

Offers Bryan a Regiment.

JEFFERSON CITY, Mo., May 31.—Gov. Stephens in a telegram today offered the command of a Missouri regiment to Hon. W. J. Bryan.

PORTO RICO WILL BE INVADED.

WASHINGTON, May 30.—It is still the purpose to take possession of Porto Rico before the general invasion of Cuba and the attack upon Havana. It is believed that orders to effect have already been issued, though that cannot be learned positively.

Conditions in Cuba.

TAMPA, Fla., May 29.—A graphic description of the situation in Cuba by Don Santiago Barroeta, who left Cienfuegos on May 20 on board of a British steamer bound for Kingston has been received here. Señor Barroeta, who is a Spaniard by birth, published last fall at New York during Gen. Weyler's command in Cuba, a sensational pamphlet exposing the crimes of the captain general. Before Weyler went to Cuba Barroeta held an important position in the island and was a judge in the superior court of justice at Cienfuegos. His campaign against Weyler compelled him to leave the island, and since the publication of his pamphlet at New York he has been considered by the Spanish as a traitor.

When Gen. Blanco was appointed captain general and offered a fair pardon to all political offenders, Barroeta returned to Cuba, but as soon as he reached Havana he was arrested by the Spanish police and sent to Cienfuegos, where they loaded him with chains and threw him into a dungeon. Barroeta's wife, a Cuban of one of the best families in the island, sold valuable property of her own and all her jewels and paid to the Spanish officials several thousand dollars for the liberty of her husband. But when Barroeta was released war between Spain and the United States had already been declared and the rabid Spaniards of Cienfuegos attempted to murder him. He had to conceal himself until he could escape from the island with his family. He says that the Spaniards in Cienfuegos, as in all the other important cities of the island, are in a state of anarchy, assassinating the Cubans, whom they believe in sympathy with the United States, and committing all kinds of crimes against the Cuban families. The military authorities, far from suppressing these barbarous demonstrations, encourage them under the pretext that Spanish patriotism can not be checked in these moments.

Near Cienfuegos a Cuban named Arredondo, suspected of being a naturalized American, was machine-gunned by the volunteers. Señor Hidalgo, Barroeta's brother in law, narrowly escaped death. His house was surrounded by the mob shouting "Death to the Yankees." Hidalgo, a few moments before, was warned that the Spaniards were going to lynch him and also concealed himself. "With my family in Cienfuegos," says Señor Barroeta, "I was more afraid of the Spaniards than of a bombardment of the city by the American fleet."

"It is estimated that the landing cost the Spanish a loss of at least 200 men. The Spanish fire was wild and not a shell struck an American ship. The Spaniards, says Señor Barroeta, have provisions in Cienfuegos to last four months and according to reliable information received by him, the same situation exists at Havana, but it is well understood that the provisions are for the troops, the non-combatants having nothing at present to eat. The concentration of the Spanish army in the filthy seaports has caused the spread of a yellow fever epidemic, which is making ravages in the Spanish ranks.

"It is something awful to see," writes Señor Barroeta. "Those ignorant sickly peasants brought from Spain to defend here the Spanish flag are dying by hundreds every day. The epidemic is so acute that many die in two or three hours. The great hope of Gen. Blanco is that the Cubans, until now siding with Spain, especially the guerrillas, should remain faithful. But he is greatly mistaken. The guerrillas are joining in great enough to secure a pension.

of continually calling upon our delinquents to pay up, and we are going to quit it—just as soon as they all settle. We need the money, need it now and need it hard. The occasion demands a persistent effort at making collections, and unless Sampson turns one of big guns on us, we are going to keep this up. We have obligations that must be met, and the little $1, $2, $3, $4 or $5 due us from delinquents will help do the work beautifully. ISSUED WEEKLY.

R. C. WALKER, Publisher.
ONE YEAR - ONE DOLLAR

SENATOR LINDSAY AND CORPORATIONS

Senator Lindsay made a speech on the revenue bill last week. He is opposed to the issue of greenbacks, and opposed to the tax on corporations.

He said, according to newspaper reports:

"No man pretended to insist that corporate property ought not to be taxed if taxation were necessary, but the question here presented was whether the tax proposed to be levied was fair and equitable. He maintained that it was the part of wisdom for Congress to enact only such legislation as would be beyond controversy in the courts."

This is the dodge that corporations always make. No ingenuity of man could draft a bill that would appear to corporations as "fair." They agreed with you that "corporate property ought to be taxed," but in every bill yet drawn, from the birth of the government to this good moment, they have found something unfair and unjust. This is their method of dodging. A bill that taxes corporations proves entirely satisfactory to them must be the product of other than human wisdom. God can do all things; this is a cardinal truth in our faith, but if in his wisdom he undertook to draft a bill taxing corporations, and at the same time pleasing the object of his statute, we verily believe that the future historian would have to repeat the expression of Moses when he wrote: "And it repented the Lord that he had made man on earth, and it grieved him at his heart."

Senator Lindsay's further suggestion is that "the part of wisdom for Congress to enact only such legislation as would be beyond controversy in the courts," is something new, and perhaps brilliant, though our obtuseness is such that we see no electric sparks or forked flashed glittering in the turbid sky of political economy. That statement simply means that Congress must go out after the working man, who has not influence or money to go into the courts, or after the farmer whose wealth is in the soil, which unfortunately cannot be hid away when the tax gatherer comes around. If that rule had been applied in Kentucky in State matters, many thousand dollars now going into the treasury over the protests of corporations, and by the grace of our courts, would be jingling a joyful anthem in the pockets of corporation stock-holders. Such a course as suggested by our Senior Senator would necessitate another call for volunteers to occupy the beaches, and a crop of lawyers equal in numbers to the starved concentrators would be necessary to transact the business of the courts. It will be a great day when Senator Lindsay gets back to Kentucky—to stay.

There is another fact that will fit in just here. The corporations not only admit that they should be taxed, and endeavor to escape taxation by the cry of unfairness in every law devised, but they admit that they should be controlled, more or less, by legislation, and endeavor to escape the curse of a justly indignant public by exactly the same subterfuge.

Professedly they want to wear a bridle, but the artist nor artisan never lived that could manipulate leather and shape it into form to please them. Nobody knows this better than Senator Lindsay, the best friend corporations ever had in Kentucky.

The undistinguished sons of distinguished fathers have been successfully clamoring for good official jobs in the army.

THE BOND ISSUE.

In his pamphlet on "The Bond and the Dollar," John Clark Ridpath, the historian, says:

The efficiency of the greenback currency in the suppression of the Rebellion has never been, can never be, denied or overestimated. Twelve years after the war, Hon. William D.

Kelley, of Pennsylvania, addressing an assembly of ex-Confederates at Macou, Ga., said: "Your leaders were mistaken in their financial theory. They believed that the United States could use nothing but gold and silver as money, and that as we had none of these metals we could not put armies in the field to overwhelm you or your fleets upon the ocean to blockade your coasts. Your leaders had not studied the constitution to see that the government has control of the question of what shall be money. We discovered that it had, and when we could not get gold or silver we MADE the greenback, and it was that that whipped you."

This seems to be pretty good testimony as to the efficiency of greenback, and the wisdom of issuing that kind of money.

The conditions now are, in some respects analogous to those of the sixties. Then the government needed money to prosecute the war. It had no gold or silver. Now it needs money to prosecute a war, it has not and cannot get a sufficient supply of gold, it has silver but to best subserve the interests of a certain class it will not use it. Now notwithstanding greenbacks fought successfully the greatest civil war known to history, the House of Representatives, in deference to the same gentry that objects to the coining of the $40,000,000 of silver in the vaults of the treasury, refuses to issue non-interest bearing bonds. Every American owes and is giving his loyal support to the administration in the prosecution of a war in behalf of human rights and liberties, but in doing this he does not surrender his right to raise his voice about the manner providing the sinews of war, and he is neither a Tory nor a traitor when he objects to this or that policy. He can follow the flag, either in person or spirit, on the field or over the blue waters, catching the orders from the Commander-in-chief with uncovered head, and moving forward in their execution without a word or thought of the wisdom or result, and at the same time without a tinge of disloyalty, see and object to any direful action of Congress. Indeed in times like these, Congress needs to be watched with a more critical eye than in times of peace, and the individual needs to be firmer in the faith and more resolute in expression, touching matters of legislation, and congressmen need to be held to a stricter account of their stewardship. Because the vampire fattens in war, the blood-sucker is not upon the field of carnage but hovering around legislative halls for the opportunities that grow like mushrooms. The bond issue at this time is a scheme of those who are willing to take advantage of a situation that can be warped and twisted to their liking. They fly the banner of patriotism and commit deeds of piracy, and, notwithstanding the unimpeachable voice of history, under cover of cry of necessity they buckle the pack-saddle on the backs of the people, and when the excitement of war dies away, and the years of peace come, the burden grows heavy and there is disquietude and unrest, and well there may be. There is formidable opposition in the Senate, to the scheme, and this opposition should be fostered by strong resolutions in every Congressional Convention this summer and fall. The fire of liberty will be kept burning along those lines just as gloriously as on the coasts of Cuba, and the result to mankind will be none the less powerful in its influence in keeping man from the thrall of monarchy.

HE IS NOT A CANDIDATE.

The Brilliant Young Democrat of Crittenden Will Not Make The Race For Congress.

HARMONY HIS FIRST CONSIDERATION.

TO THE DEMOCRACY OF THE FIRST CONGRESSIONAL DISTRICT

Having expressed to my friends a desire to represent the district in Congress, and having anticipated the submission of my candidacy to the Democrats at the approaching primary election, I feel that the time is at hand when my intentions should be made known, and I adopt this method of informing my friends that I will not be a candidate.

While it would have been the proudest and happiest event of my life to have borne the banner of my party in the coming conflict, and while I have assurance of support from all parts of the district, and feel that my chances of nomination and election are possibly as good as any other candidate, I realize the critical situation of the party at this grave period in the history of our country, and knowing of the bitterness and discord that follow heated contests in the party, which sometimes endangers its success, and feeling in view of these things that I can best subserve our great cause by remaining at my unpretentious post in the ranks, I lay aside my ambition.

I need not discuss other matters that had more or less weight in leading me to take this step, it is sufficient to say that I believe "the cause is greater than any man."

Whatever the future may have in store for me, I shall never forget those of my friends who have so generously tendered me their support, nor have I any meed of unkindness for those who have preferred to follow the banner of any other. In the future as in the past my hopes will be for the success of our common cause—the cause of the many against the few, the cause of the toiling millions not against wealth, but for justice before the law; the cause of the bond-payers against the bond-dealers. Whatever ability I may possess shall always be at the command of my party, so long as it stands for the people. It has been my good pleasure to bear its banner on many a hard fought battle field in the past, and I hope to be able to bear it on many more yet to be.

Yours with great respect OLLIE M. JAMES.

Entangling Alliances.

It is said that steps have been taken towards an alliance with Great Britain, and the public prints go so far as to give an epitome of the agreement. According to these, England is to recognize the Monroe doctrine and not to attempt to extend her possessions in the Western Hemisphere. The United States is to build the Nicaragua canal, and England is to have the use of this territory in the retention of the territories taken from Spain, and we in return are to rally to the support of England in her conquests in China and the far east. This scheme is evidently the fabrication of the fertile imagination of the versatile newspaper correspondent, at a time when the war news was blockaded by the government. "Word has just been received here that the Indians are rising against the Yankees in Illinois, Ohio and other places. The farmers are petitioning the government to protect them from the bloody thirsty savages, who are burning houses and killing on every side. Troops are asked for at Colorado in the State of Denver and at St. Louis (San Luis), in Mississippi.

"News is brought to us that Buffalo Bill, a notorious outlaw and leader of a band of half breeds, has risen against the American government and is burning towns near his birth place in New York."

El Heraldo, one of the most widely read papers in Spain recently printed the following:

"All the troops of the Yankees are in the far Western part of the country, many thousand miles from the Atlantic coast. There are only a few thousand men all told, and they are ill paid and ill fed, and not willing to fight. To utilize this force it will be necessary to bring it to the Eastern seaboard. There is but one railway by which it can be transported, and that is an old and poorly constructed affair. At one place this railroad passes over the Niagara Falls, a cataract 1000 feet high, near Labrador. At least accounts the bridge at this place was in a very dangerous condition. It need surprise no one to hear that some agency had made it more so."

El País, another newspaper published in Madrid, recently assured its readers that Spain would certainly come out of the war victorious, because of the wretched condition of America, which is described in this way:

"The country is not fit to live in. The climate is execrable. When it is not sleeting or snowing the heat is almost unbearable. Avalanches are frequent at all times, and these threaten the principal cities. As far as the people, besides the few whites engaged in business along the Eastern shore the remainder of the country is one vast plain, covered with Indians called cowboys, and great herds of roaming cattle."

A still more appalling disclosure which appeared in the columns of the Imparcial, another of Madrid's ablest journals, on April 2, is as follows:

"It is a fact well known to all European statesmen that only by means of armed forces stationed in the late

In our advertising columns will be found an announcement of Ex-Senator John J. Ingalls' forthcoming book, entitled "America's War For Humanity." Canvassing agents will find in it a book of remarkable interest, and certainly of extraordinary ability. The history of the war is told in picture and story, and in a way that always characterizes the brilliant pen of Senator Ingalls. In narrating the incidents of this war he finds grand scope for his superb descriptive and analytical powers. The theme is worthy of the author, and the author is worthy of the theme. It is published by N. D. Thompson Publishing Co., of St. Louis, Mo. It will be a monumental work that will not only be everywhere read, but it will be a monument to his genius that will live in history in his brilliant senatorial career. The subscription book trade and the canvassing agents are fortunate in the fact that an author of such rare ability has been enlisted in its interest.

AS THEY SEE US.

Washington, May 28.—Spain has received recently startling and disquieting news from America—certainly startling to Americans. El Tiempo, of Madrid recently printed this dispatch from its Havana correspondent:

"Word has just been received here that the Indians are rising against the Yankees in Illinois, Ohio and other places. The farmers are petitioning the government to protect them from the bloody thirsty savages, who are burning houses and killing on every side. Troops are asked for at Colorado in the State of Denver and at St. Louis (San Luis), in Mississippi.

A still more appalling disclosure which appeared in the columns of the Imparcial, another of Madrid's ablest journals, on April 2, is as follows:

"It is a fact well known to all European statesmen that only by means of armed forces stationed in the late Confederate States has the Washington Government been able to preserve the semblance of peace. Even now the new General of the Confederacy is but waiting for the word to revolt. When war is declared, Gen. Lee, who has been council General at Havana, and who was kicked out of Cuba by Governor-General Blanco, will raise the standard of revolt and the old Southern Confederacy. This Lee is the same Lee who was General in chief of the Civil war in 1855, and who surrendered to Gen. Lincoln in the last named year broke the revolution. His acts at Havana were for the purpose of plunging the Government into war with the Kingdom, at which time he and his fellows could rise against Gen. McKinley."

Well known and experienced speakers will discuss topics of vital import to Sunday school workers. The speakers from abroad are Mrs. W. F. Crafts, of Washington, D. C., the well-known primary teacher; Rev. E. Morris Ferguson, of Trenton, N. J., General Secretary of the New Jersey S. S. Association; and Rev. L. B. Maxwell, of Savannah, Ga., Colored Field Worker for the International Executive Committee.

The devotional services will be in charge of Rev. Francis R. Beattie, D. D., of Louisville. Prominent among the Kentucky speakers are Rev. E. L. Powell, Rev. C. Y. Smith, and Rev. Dr. J. H. Mr. Sam Heath, of the Weston neighborhood, paid us a friendly call a few days since. While he is not as spry as a two year old, he is pretty hearty for eighty-five years. He spent his first two years in Georgia, and his last 83 in this county. If you were to start out to find a better man than "Uncle" Sam, it would be many long days before you got back.

There is no pain or discomfort when Tableer's Buckeye Pile Ointment is used. It relieves that itching increased by scratching. It is prepared with scientific accuracy and professional knowledge, and is the kind that cures blind, bleeding, itching and protruding piles with no pain or loss of time. For sale by J. H. Orme, druggist.

Mr. J. H. Morse will put a new stock of goods in the south room of his new building. He will handle shoes, hats, ladies and gents furnishing goods. He has already purchased a superb line of these goods, and expects to be ready for business next week. He has built up a good reputation as a fine business man and needs no introduction to a public with which he has been trading with for years.

Thousands suffer from Catarrh or cold in head and have never tried the popular remedy. There is no longer any excuse, as a 10 cent trial size of Ely's Cream Balm can be had of your druggist or you mail it for 10 cents. Full size 50 cents.

Ely Bros., 56 Warren St. N. Y. City. A friend advised me to try Ely's Cream Balm and after using it six weeks I believe myself cured of catarrh. It is the most valuable remedy.—Joseph Stewart, 624 Grand Ave Brooklyn, N. Y.

Cheapskate doesn't mean merely little money—it means value for your money. We don't advertise cheapness because that doesn't express the facts about the BUCKSKIN BREECHES. We tell you that they are better in every way than the so-called cheap goods—then we say they don't cost any more. If common goods are cheap, what about good pants at the same price.

Mr. Stark, Pleasant Ridge, O. says, "After two doctors gave up my boy to die. I saved him from croop by using One Minute Cough Cure." It is the quickest and most certain remedy for coughs, colds and all throat and lung troubles. R. F. Haynes.

The American Navy, Cuba and Hawaii

A portfolio, in ten parts, sixteen views in each part, of the finest half tone pictures of the American Navy, Cuba and Hawaii, has just been issued by a Chicago publishing house.

The Illinois Central Railroad has made arrangements for a special edition for the benefit of its patrons, and a specimen copy can be seen at the local I. C. ticket office. Single parts may be had at ten cents each, the full set, one hundred and sixty pictures, costs but one dollar. Subscriptions for the set may be left with the agent. In view of the present excitement regarding Cuba, these pictures are very timely. Call at the ticket office and see them.
